VARSIITY DEFEATS

GEORGIA MEDICALS.

Come Off Field Victors by Decisive Score of 14 to 0.

Outweighed by Fifteen Pounds to the Man, But the Fast Bunch Made It Two Straight Victories.

The Gamecocks walked away with the second game of the season on last Saturday, October 15th, when they defeated the Georgia Medical College, in Augusta, by score of 14 to 0, all of the points being made in the first two quarters. The hot weather prevented either team from showing its true speed, save for individual flashes occasionally. Carolina showed the advantage of better training, while the Meds. outweighed their opponents fifteen pounds to the man.

Carolin played the open game, frequently using the forward pass to advantage. Georgia used the old style football, tackle around tackle.

The Gamecocks won the toss and kicked off. After exchanging punts, in which Carolina gained 20 yards, Crawford kicked a pretty goal from 25-yard line. Carolina kicked off again and shortly afterwards Wyche got away for 40 yards through a broken field and a touchdown. In the second quarter McGowan went over for a touchdown, after the repeated use of the forward pass.

At no time was Carolina's goal in danger, the ball being in Georgia's territory at all times.

For Georgia, Mercer, Bunch and Brown starred, while Mobley, Rawls, Wyche, Alexander, Crawford, McGowan and Mace played good ball for Carolina.

Following is the line-up:

CAROLINA 14.	MEDS. 0.
Mobley	Edwards
Bethune	Halford, Ware
Wilson	Sums
McKissick,
Girardeau	Bunch
Rawls	Mercer
McGowan, Sligh	Cox
Mace	Frederick, Miller
Wyche, McNair	Rhoades
Crawford	Griffith
Willis	Newsom
Alexander, Stoney	Brown
Referee, Caswell (V. P. L.).	Umpire,
Hines (Georgia). Field judge,	Cogburn
(Carolina). Head linesman,	McAuliffe.
Time of quarters, two 12 minutes and two 10 minutes.

The next game is this coming Saturday, October 22d, when the Gamecocks tackle Lenoir College, of North Carolina, on Davis Field. Lenoir is a small college, but they usually put out a gritty team, so the "chickens" will expect a stiff game. Game called promptly at four o'clock, Davis Field. Come out and whoop 'em up.

THE ANNUAL BIBLE-STUDY CONFERENCE.

Dr. M. D. Weatherford, International Secretary Y. M. C. A., Was the Principal Speaker.

The Occasion Was Enjoyed by Sixty-five Delegates from Every College in the State.

The Annual Bible Study Conference of the Y. M. C. A.'s of the colleges of South Carolina was held with us October 14th-16th, inclusive. There were about sixty-five delegates present from the various colleges of the State, and these were entertained by members of the faculty, the students of the University who live in Columbia, and other citizens of the city. Among the speakers were: Dr. S. C. Mitchell, Dr. W. D. Weatherford, International Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Mr. H. S. Johnson, Student Secretary for the Carolinas; Mr. Huntington, General Secretary of North and South Carolina; Mr. Sweeney, Student Secretary at Clemson College; Mr. Stratton, General Secretary of the Columbia Y. M. C. A., and Mr. W. P. Mills, our own Secretary.

The first meeting was held in the chapel on Friday night, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Mitchell first welcomed the delegates to the University and then introduced Dr. Weatherford as the speaker of the evening. The speaker took as his subject: "The Bible, a Book for Modern College Men."

On Saturday there were two sessions held: one in the morning and one in the afternoon. At these meetings such questions as, "How to make the Bible class hour attractive," "How to secure interest in the mission study," "How to increase the membership of the association," etc., were discussed. The discussions were very beneficial to the delegates, as they were given the opportunity to give their experiences and to get the experiences of delegates from sister associations, on these questions.

On Saturday night by no means the least enjoyable feature of the Conference was held. On that night the Y. W. C. A. of Columbia College tendered a reception to the delegates and students of the University. The annual Y. W. C. A. Reception at C. C. is always greatly enjoyed by the students of the University, and on this occasion the reception was rendered even more enjoyable by the presence of our friends from the other institutions throughout the State.

On Sunday afternoon Dr. Weatherford again spoke to the delegates and members of the student body. This time his subject was, "God's Valuation of a Personality."

On Sunday night in the Washington Street church a union service of the Columbia College, College for Women and University students was held. At this time Dr. Weatherford spoke on "The Friendship of God." This was the closing session of the Conference.

On Monday morning the delegates returned to their various institutions, filled, we believe, with an inspiration to take up the work of the Young Men's Christian Association with greater earnestness, and to make it count for most in the building of Christian character in their respective institutions.

The Publication Room.

Before this session there has been no headquarters for the publication of the students. On this account the work on our journals has not been as regular as it might have been.

But now the want is filled by a Publication Room in Flinn Hall, where The Carolinian, GAMECOCK and The Garnet and Black can have a tangible point of radiation. We have to thank Mr. Edward Finley largely for this addition, since the idea was his. He worked it up, and, together with Mr. H. G. Officer, selected the furniture for the room. It is excellent, simple in design, but substantial and in perfect accord with the rest of Flinn Hall.

The editors-in-chief of The Carolinian and GAMECOCK hold regular office hours in the Publication Room, to receive manuscripts. Bring them up and help to fill the journals. Don't be in the least bashful. It may be better than you think.

All-Star Teams.

The faculty has at last given out a complete line-up for their annual football game which will be held sometime in the future. The game is looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure, and we know there will be a large crowd to attend. The all-star teams' line-ups are as follows:

FATS.	LEANS.
Smith	Coleman
Easterling	Snowden
Wauchope	Tate
Moore, A. C.	Colcock
Wardlaw	Moore, G. B.
Burney	Baker
McCutcheon	Davis
Mitchell	Green
Thomas	Twitchell
Frierson	Chamberlayne
Holmes	Tate

Subs: Fats, Hand; Leans, Keith.
Water boys, Potts, Schofield. Sponsors, Mrs. Madden and Mrs. Latimer. Gatekeepers, Pickling and Rion. Ticket-seller, Porcher. Referee, Ansel (Fats). Umpire, Joynes (Leans). Field judge, Dyches (Leans). Head linesman, Carson (Fats). Timekeepers, Hemmingway and Coggeshall.

THE SCRUBS WIN

THE FIRST GAME.

They Defeat the City Team by the Large Score of 13 to 0.

Woodrow Stars on Scrubs, Making Two Long Runs for Touchdown. Ancrum Plays Well for City.

The scrubs were given their initial try out on last Friday, October 14th. To be sure they made good.

Before a good crowd of college men and town supporters the doughty scrubs defeated the Columbia eleven by a score of 13 to 0.

The game was hotly contested throughout, though at no time were the scrubs' goal in danger.

Woodrow played a good game for the scrubs in right end. Ten points may be attributed to him, he receiving the ball on punts and making long runs for touchdowns. For the Columbia eleven "Big" Ancrum played star ball, breaking up many plays. Stoney kicked a pretty field goal from the 30-yard line.

This is the first of several games which Manager Thomas has arranged for the hard-working scrubs.

Following was the line-up:

City—Sims, r. e.; Huffman, r. t.; Marshall, r. g.; Finklea, c.; Ancrum, l. g.; Kreps, l. t.; Floyd and Martin, r. e.; Rion, q. b.; Harth, r. h.; Hamer, f. b.; Potts, l. h.

Carolina—Woodrow, r. e.; Knight, r. t.; Sadler, r. g.; Graydon, c.; Wherry, l. g.; McGowan, l. t.; Sligh, l. e.; C. Stoney, q. b.; Nott, r. h.; Metts, f. b.; Vandiver, l. h.

The officials were Douglas McKay, referee, and Jack DesPortes, umpire.

In Appreciation.

We think it not out of place that THE GAMECOCK should voice the sentiments of the Carolina men in thanking Columbia College for its Y. W. C. A. reception, on last Saturday evening. Everybody had a delightful time. The whole college seemed to have fallen into the idea of making it the best affair of its kind ever known among the colleges here.

Although the special cars were something like half an hour late, still, during the rest of the time before ten-thirty, everybody made up for the loss. The refreshments were not only delicious and daintily served, but they were abundant. This counts. The chapel and the adjoining corridors were well-covered with penants from every college ever heard of.

We wish to compliment the C. C. girls on their reception, as well as to thank them for their kindness in giving us such a good time.

Lenoir next!

Two straight games for us.

The chances for winning the game fair Week are very bright.

But the results of the Citadel game last Saturday show that we have got to work.

The Georgia Meds. were easy money for us. We must say that they treated the team very nicely, and we wish to thank them most heartily for their kind favors.

WILSON.

We are all interested very much in the progress of the operation on Mr. Wilson last Monday. He was in excellent training to undergo an operation, being a Varsity football man. He is now improving very rapidly, and it is almost certain that he will soon be back at work with us. There is one thing that we regret most of all in the misfortune of our fellow student, and that is, he was working so hard to get a block "C" this year, and had an excellent chance, but he was so unfortunate as to have appendicitis, and he will probably be unable to get back on the field any more this season. Mr. Wilson has the best wishes from the whole student body for a speedy recovery.

SENIOR PRIVILEGES.

There will be a petition handed to the faculty some time during this year to give the graduating students all their examination two weeks before the regular time, that is, two weeks before commencement. There are many reasons why this petition should be granted:

First, for the simple reason that a Senior should have some privileges over the underclassmen. As the circumstances are now there is not one single thing to distinguish a Freshman from a Senior. They are all treated alike, a Senior being shown no more respect than if he had just arrived from the remotest parts of the backwoods. But we will class the above as the weakest reason we have.

Second, however, and most important is the fact that all of the graduating students have to write essays and many of them have to write commencement speeches. The speakers are appointed by the faculty, and they are not appointed until just about three weeks before commencement. This makes it necessary for the speakers to work on their speeches during the examinations, and often causes a man to fail on his studies. It also keeps him from doing his very best on a speech.

Now, it is very clear to our mind, that an early examination for the Seniors would eliminate all the difficulty. In the two weeks before commencement he could work on his essay and on his speech. He could make better marks on his examinations, and he could write much better essays and speeches. Thus we see that it would be best in every way to make this a rule.

The third and last reason for this change is that it is worked to an advantage in many other universities and colleges, and we know it would work here.

We trust the faculty will look at this from a reasonable standpoint, and grant this petition when it is presented.

THE DRINKING FOUNTAIN.

Everybody is wondering when the drinking fountain will be ready for use. It has been lying in front of the Marshal's office upon the ground for some few weeks, and it seems that it is no one's duty to have it put into working order. As we have said before, we have purchased the very best that could be had, but what good will it do on the ground crumbling into ruin? It doesn't seem that it would take very long to erect this valuable fountain. We wish to beg and insist that the proper authorities take this matter up at once, and have this fountain ready for use in as few days as possible, because it should have been ready at the opening of college.

OUR ADVERTISERS.

Fellows, do you realize that our advertisers make it possible for us to run our three publications? They buy the advertising space in our paper and thereby give us money to pay our expenses. Now, it is very good in the merchants to help us in this way, and what we want to impress upon the student's mind is the fact that we must patronize them. There are some merchants in town who give us an ad for each of the publications. Now, these are the merchants that we want to buy from. They help us, so let us help them. It is a very easy matter to look over our list and find out who is on it.

There is one merchant in this city who has given us what we would call a dirty deal. He sold, at the opening of school, more furniture than all the other merchants put together. He made good money off the students of this University, and when our different business managers went to him and asked for an ad, he wanted to take about two inches of space in one of them, which, after due consideration, was refused him. He was so bold as to make the statement that the other fellows bought advertising space and he got the trade. Now, it is up to us to show him how much we appreciate his views. In our opinion, this is indeed a low type of humanity, whose greed for gold is so strong as this, and whose sense of appreciation is so small. But, of course, it takes all kind of men to make up this old world, and we can say without fear of contradiction that this human being stands in a class all by himself. There may be others near his class, but we know that they do not reside near the city of Columbia, because if there were several such people in one community, the demoralizing effect would be so strong that it would bring the degree of civilization to a much lower point than what we have at present.

Now, fellows, we want to beg you to let this kind of furniture dealer alone. Try to keep away from his place of business, and warn other fellows that they are stepping into a bed of thorns when they patronize a man like the one described above. There are many other men in town who will give us an honest, square deal, and not desert us when it comes his time to work. So, let us work for those who help us, and be very careful about whom we make our purchases from.

The C. F. W. Girl.

Around in front of glass she paces,
Then slowly turns and right 'bout faces;
She touches her hair with gentle hand,
Then smooths and primps to beat the band;
She smiles o'er back to see her looks,
All laced to neck with eyes and hooks;
She views high heels with glance of pride
As turning slowly from side to side;
Then rubs her cheek with pinkish stuff,
Then gives each sleeve a little puff,
And seizing gloves and dainty fan,
She sallies forth to conquer man.
"CHICKEN."

A "Billet Doux."

She was a winsome country lass,
So William on a brief vacation,
The time more pleasantly to pass,
Essayed flirtation.
And while they strolled in twilight dim
As near the time for parting drew,
Asked if she would have from him
A "Billet Doux."
Now this simple maid of Fresh knew naught,
But doubting not 'twas something nice,
Shyly she lifted her pretty head,
Her rosy lips together drew, and coyly said,
"Yes, Billy—do;"
And William—did.

About Visitors.

Fellows, some of us have the idea that a visiting football team ought to be cared for only while on the gridiron. We do not seem to realize that this is the work of our team, and that there is also a job, which should be a pleasure, for each and every one of us.

This work that I refer to is no other than that of being courteous to our visitors. Ah! but you say: I have been courteous, and I know I should be as well as you. Yes, that is true, but if each one of us would put ourselves out a little more to do something for our visitors, they would always remember their visit. Not by the defeat that they received from our varsity, but by the gentlemanly manner in which they were received.

But how can we show our interest in them? Why, in a hundred ways. For instance, by taking them to Flinn Hall, by showing them the library, or by showing them the way to the famous "Topshe's." In other words, if you see a visiting man, introduce yourself to him and let him see that Carolina is a place where we have true spirit, and, above all, the spirit for which our Southland is honored, that of Southern hospitality.

Soph's First Letter Home.

DEAR PA: You know that bull yearling which you gave me to get me to feed the cows. Please have him butchered and sold. Then send me the money as soon as you can for I need these books: A Minerology, a Physiography, a Psychology, a Biology, a Geology, a Zoology, and a Sociology. Our new Ology Building has been completed. It was desecrated last summer when they moved the furniture into it from the old building.

You may kill my chicken rooster, but not old Dandy, for I want to hear him crow once more when I come home.

Mr. Smith said he would give me two dollars for his hide, and I think Mr. Jones will take one of his hind quarters. I am sure you can sell him out before sundown.

Do you think I will get five hundred pounds of lint cotton from my patch? When you get it gathered and ginned do not put it into futures, but send me the money right away. Pa, you may be proud of me for this one trait of character. I don't deal in futures.

There are banks here, but they deal in futures (that is, they keep your money for the future), but I won't have anything to do with such an institution. It is for your memory's sake that I do this, for I have often heard you say that you do not believe in futures. There is a course offered in Economics, but I do not care about taking it, for I know one boy who took it last year and he is so economical that he won't buy what he doesn't need.

Home seems dearer to me now when I am away. Sweet are the recollections of how I once visited the sugar dish, and when these recollections come back to me they fill my eyes with tears and my mouth with water.

Tell Lucy to kiss sister for me; not Billy Jones' sister, for I will see her by and by, but my own little sister Mary.

Remember the bull yearling.

SOPH.

P. M.—After eating my dinner I feel good. The only trouble I have had with my health is that I have nightmares. Dr. Chamberlaing says they are due wholly to my riding ponies.

Night Classes.

The night classes at the University of South Carolina will begin work on November 7th. Last year these classes proved helpful to many young men in business in Columbia. Already there has been a demand for them the present session. These courses are offered solely with a view to helping those who are unable to attend the University during the day. There will be three classes this session:

Course I. Commercial Law; Banking and Banking Laws. Taught by Professor McCutcheon on Wednesday night.

Course II. Elementary French, with some reading. Taught by Professor Keith on Friday night.

Course III. On English Literature. Taught by Prof. Reed Smith on Monday night.

The classes will meet from eight to nine o'clock at night in Davis College.

Besides these three night classes, there will be, every Thursday night, a popular lecture by one of the professors of the University. Thus, on four nights in every week, there will be something attractive at the University.

A fee of $5 is required of those registering for any one, or all of the night classes. No charge, however, is made for teachers. Certificates stating the actual work done in these classes will be issued to all who desire them. Those who may wish to take up these night classes are requested to register their names at the President's office at the University as soon as possible.

The Football Matinee.

While the Varsity men were battling in Augusta last Saturday afternoon, over 120 Carolina men were sitting in the Grand Theater listening with breathless attention to a detailed account of the game being taken over the wire.

John Bell, a veteran in the telegraph business, received the news and called it out. John Blackburn reported the game in Augusta. Buie followed the game on a gridiron drawn on a blackboard, using a miniature football, Reddy Metts was waterboy, John Hoey led the cheering and Smyth Flinn kept the splints, bandages and "Hunter's first aid to the injured."

With these officials in charge the matinee was very successful in every way except financially. Owing to the absence of some college men who had signified their intention of attending the promoters did not clear expenses, and had it not been for the munificence of several town supporters who swelled the gate receipts by their attendance, they would have lost heavily.

This is the first time that this scheme has ever been tried at the University of South Carolina, and that, no doubt, accounts for the small attendance of last Saturday's matinee.

Now that it has been tested and found to work successfully, there is no reason why every college man should not attend every matinee. It is extremely interesting, as every man who attended the last matinee will tell you. You get every play in detail, and you have a mental picture of the football field with its two elevens arrayed against each other. Besides the rooting stimulates college spirit, and the team is cheered by the frequent telegrams sent between quarters.

The promoters, Messrs. Hazard and Sheppard, announce that matinees will be given for the Davidson, U. of N. C. and Citadel games, besides all the out-of-town baseball games in the spring. Come out, men, and let's make a success of this.

Dr. Weatherford.

Dr. W. D. Weatherford won the heart of every man on the campus with his frank, straightforward and forceful talks. No one has come to the students lately who has been better liked or more thoroughly enjoyed than this genuine Christian worker. He seems to make the student problem his work, and helps them to see through their difficulties and into the larger opportunities before a college man with a clear vision. We hope, sincerely, that Dr. Weatherford will come back to Carolina whenever he finds himself in our territory.

ON THE CAMPUS.

Mr. J. I. Humphrey, of '09, spent a few days last week with friends on the campus.

Mr. William H. James, of '09, who is now teaching in Mayesville, was on the campus Saturday.

Mr. Joe Hiers, '10, made us a short visit last week.

Mr. M. D. Camak stopped for a few hours on the campus last Friday on his way to Saluda, where he is teaching school.

Mr. Ben Heyward, of Rockton, passed through Saturday.

Mr. Richard M. Jeffries, of '10, is now teaching school at Ridgeland, in Beaufort county.

Messrs. J. H. Hydrick and John Pat Wise returned Monday from Orangeburg, where they have been visiting Mr. Hydrick's parents.

We are happy to know that Prof. A. L. Keith is again able to meet his classes after a brief attack of malaria.

Mr. Samuel L. Leaphart, of the class of '98, and who is now a resident of Lexington, was recently elected President of the South Carolina Postmasters' Association.

Keep Them Posted At Home.

The best interpreter of student life at Carolina is THE GAMECOCK. If you want to keep the people at home posted on what you are doing and on the University in general, send a copy of THE GAMECOCK when you write next time.

Folks at home are very much interested in what we are employing ourselves with here. They read letters over ten times, while we scarcely read them over after writing them, to correct misspellings. They can get more out of THE GAMECOCK about the news of the campus than they can possibly get from your letters. So get the habit of slipping a copy of "The Bird" in an envelope, and a one-cent stamp does the work.

Neatness.

Fellows, it seems like a small matter, almost too insignificant to pause upon, but in your study and in your pleasure in college life, the condition of your room makes a difference. It is not necessary that you should have handsome furniture, and a lot of rugs and curtains, although these are desirable, but it makes all the difference in the world, whether you live in a neat room or one piled with empty boxes, unused furniture, newspapers, coal, and clothes waiting for the laundry agent.

You have more self-respect if you have no holes in your socks; so you feel better if you have some crepe paper on your mantel instead of a bare shelf; if there are no shirts thrown around in the corners or collars covering your table. Unbleached cotton costs five cents a yard, and three yards or so will cover a window, thus furnishing a room to a great extent.

We have such a continuous life that unless we fix up our rooms now at the beginning of the session, the chances are that we will live in disorder for nine months. So, get to work, fellows, and fix up your rooms.

Feed the "Bird."

THE PIECE THAT ROBERT SPOKE.

Once there was a little boy whose name was Robert Reece;
And every Friday afternoon he had to speak a piece.

So many poems thus be learned, that soon he had a store
Of recitations in his head, and still kept learning more.

And now this is what happened: He was called upon, one week,
And totally forgot the piece he was about to speak!

His brain he cudgeled. Not a word remained within his head!

And so he spoke at random, and this is what he said:

"My Beautiful, my Beautiful, who standest proudly by,

It was the schooner 'Hesperus'—the breaking waves dashed high!

Why is the Forum crowded? What means this stir in Rome?

Under a spreading chestnut tree there is no place like home!

"When Freedom from her mountain height cried, Twinkle, little star,

Shoo! if you must this old gray head, King Henry of Navarre!

Roll on, thou deep and dark blue castled crag of Drachenfels,

My name is Norval, on the Grampian Hills, ring out, wild bells!

"If you're waking, call me early, to be or not to be.

The curfew must not ring tonight! Oh, woodman, spare that tree!

Charge, Chester, charge! On, Stanley, on! And let who will be clever!

The boy stood on the burning deck, but I go on forever!"

The University of South Carolina

FOUNDED BY THE STATE IN 1801 IN THE CAPITAL CITY

Spacious campus, commodious buildings, and admirable athletic field. University life is marked by fraternity between faculty and students. Careful attention is given to the individual student. The public opinion of the student body is determinative of gentlemanly conduct. There is enthusiasm for athletics and for all kinds of physical culture. The health and morals of the young men are the first care of the governing authorities.

The University has the following departments of study:

I. The College, with various courses of study in Languages, History, Science, etc., leading to the degrees of A. B. and B. S. Four general scholarships, worth from $100 to $150 each.

II. School of Graduate Studies, with advanced courses leading to the degree of Master of Arts.

The graduates of the colleges of South Carolina are admitted to the University in all courses, except Law, without charge for tuition.

III. School for Teachers, which seeks to prepare men to serve the State specially as teachers, principals, and superintendents of schools. In this course the A. B. degree is conferred. Forty-three teachers' scholarships, each worth $100 in cash and exemption from tuition and term fees.

IV. Engineering, Civil and Electrical, leading to the degrees of C. E. and E. E. Practical Work in Road Construction.

V. Law, with a course leading to the degree of LL. B. The presence of the various courts and the use of the State Law Library afford exceptional facilities for Law students.

Through its system of EXTENSION TEACHING the University offers correspondence courses, public lectures, and night classes, to persons unable otherwise to receive academic training.

College fees for the year, $18. For women college fees are only $12. For those paying tuition, $40 additional. Room, with light and service, $8 a year.

Active teachers have the advantages of the University without any charge whatever.
