VOL. IV

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., MAY 23, 1908.

NO. 14

FIELD DAY.

'08 AGAIN WINS THE TROPHY CUP.

Field day exercises were pulled off the morning of May 1, and were extremely interesting from start to finish. The handsome trophy cup, given by Prof. Calhoun to the class scoring the highest number of points, was again won by the class of '08. The Seniors have shown remarkable prowess in an athletic way during their four years, winning the class foot-ball championship three years in succession, and the trophy cup the only two years that it has been given.

There were gold medals given to the winners of first places in each event, and silver and bronze medals to the winners of second and third places.

The distinct feature of the morning was the relay races, probably because only those could enter who did not at any time take part in an inter-collegiate meet. There were three relay races, and the Seniors won two of them.

As Clemson has a meet here with the University of Georgia on May 9, Prof. Calhoun deemed it wise that his men should not overwork themselves, and allowed each man to enter in not more than two events. This was a good move, and showed judgment on his part.

The events, with the winners and time in each, follows:

100 yard dash—Warren, Senior, first, time 10 4-5 sec.; Jacobs, Freshman, second; Bailey, Sophomore, third.

Half mile run—Barnett, G. M., Junior, first, time 2 min. 7 sec.;

FURMAN WALLOPED.

8 TO 2 TIGERS HAD WALK-OVER

Eight to two tells the tale in a nut shell of the Clemson-Furman ball game played at Greenwood on April 24. Clemson clearly out-classed the Furman lads, and only during the first few innings did Furman have a look-in on the game, although on several occasions they had men on the bases, but each time lost their chance to score by poor base running.

Both Stokes and Workman pitched a good game; and while Clemson was behind Stokes all the time, Workman received very poor support at critical stages of the game. Lee, Wylie, Coles and Goodman played star ball for Clemson, while Calmes did stellar work for Furman.

The distinct feature of the game was the immense crowd present, filling the grand-stand, the side lines and overflowing the field to such an extent that ground rules had to be made limiting hits to two bases. The crowd is variously estimated at from 3000 to 4000, though probably the latter number is more nearly correct. They were all there, big, little, young, old, pretty and beautiful; college boys and college girls, and almost every body was wearing the colors of their favorites.

Game in detail:

FIRST INNING.

Lee singled. Brown singled advancing Lee. Bissell sacrificed. Kirby grounded to second scoring Lee but outing at first. Sherard fanned. Hits 2, Runs 1.

Singletary out pitcher to first. Poteat outed to first unassisted.

TAPS, VOL. I, HAS ARRIVED

A VERY CREDITABLE PUBLICATION.

"Taps," the annual for 1908, is now being delivered. Two hundred per cent better than any other annual ever issued at Clemson, and one of the best contemporary annuals in the South tells the tale. We do not make the latter statement as our own opinion, but as an expression of a prominent publisher who has seen practically all of the annuals issued by the larger colleges of the South. "Taps" is an annual that any student body should be proud of, and those who sacrificed their time to make the annual a success, may justly have a feeling of pride in their work, Neatness, absence of floral decorations and rainbow effects, and a systematic ingenious arrangement of contents combined to make "Taps" a very attractive publication.

For the benefit of "Tiger" readers who may not have an opportunity of seeing a copy of the annual, we shall make a brief resume of the contents. We have seen a number of annuals from colleges and universities all over the country, but the covers of none can compare in neatness and artistic effect to the cover of "Taps." The cover is maroon, stiff backed ooze sheep, and the design, stamped in gold and black, makes a neat combination of class colors. The annual is not only superior to all previous annuals in quality; but is also the largest ever issued at Clemson, having 315 pages with dimensions of 7 inches by 12 inches.

"Taps" is dedicated to "Our

Senior Class

The arrival of the annuals created quite a sensation, and the Seniors took a day off to get acquainted with them. On the whole, the class is well pleased with them, and are proud of the publication, thinking that it is among the best if not the best that has ever been published at Clemson.

The seniors have been invited to a reception to be given in their honor by Mrs. Mell, and are anticipating a very enjoyable time.

The following invitations have been received by the Senior agriculturals:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Harper at home
Friday evening, May the fifteenth.
Five to seven.

The Senior Agriculturals, at present the Senior Base Ball team, is practicing hard to get in shape for the Senior-Faculty game, which will be played some time during commencement week. The Faculty has succeeded in winning from the Seniors for the past four or five years, and they hope to repeat the performance this year.

By winning the trophy cup on field day, the Seniors demonstrated their superiority along athletic lines beyond question, having won class championships in football for three consecutive years and also having taken the trophy cups for two years in succession.

Much of the Senior's work is due to the magnificent work of Warren.

Junior Class

On Saturday night of April 25, the Junior and Sophomore dancing clubs enjoyed an informal practice dance from 8 o'clock till 9.45 P. M. In view of the fact that the Junior dancing club is very small, and, out of good feeling toward the next year Juniors, the Sophomores were invited to join forces. Altho this has never been done before, we think it a good plan to combine for the rest of the year. We thank the young ladies of the hill very much for coming out to these little practice dances, which we have had several times during the year.

We were glad to see some time ago Mr. R. E. Adams, who is one of our "departed" members, and who was visiting friends in the barracks. It makes us feel like by-gone times to see the familiar face of some of our old class-mates, whom we hope to see back here with us next September.

Mr. W. A. Robinson, an ex-junior from Easley, came over for the Junior May Hop, and attended the Field day exercises.

An old member of '09, Mr. J. L. Boyd, who left in the early part of of the present session, stopped over here for a day, while on his way to Atlanta.

Mrs. R. N. Bracket has, by taking each course at a different time, entertained the entire class, and we feel under many obligations to her for the pleasant afternoons afforded us.

Although this is possibly the last issue of The Tiger for this year, we hope to see it appear again next session and continue the work which it has so successfully carried on for the past two years. If it has as skilful management in the future as it has had in the past, there is no reason why it should not be well edited next year.

There are many men in our class who are thinking of attending the student Conference at Montreat, N. C., and from the present outlook we stand a good showing to win the track meet up there with Pridmore, Fleming, and Byrd.

At a recent meeting of our class Mr. A. McDavid, was elected Vice-President. This office was formerly held by Mr. Morgan. Mr. Morgan is now President, taking the place of Mr. B. B. Harris, who went home in April. The class of 1910 ends its sophomore year with the following men in office: Morgan, W. H., President; McDavid, A., Vice-President; Stephenson, J. T., Secretary and Treasurer; Summers, L. W., Historian; Henderson, P. R., Poet; Byrd, N. E., Tiger Staff; Allen, W., President of Dancing Club. White, W. P., Vice President Dancing Club.

It is a fact worth noting, the excellent showing our class made against the Seniors on Fields Day. It was hard for us to see the Calhoun Trophy Cup given over to the Senior class again; but we feel better when we remember that we were beaten by only one race, and that this Senior class has won Fields Day for three successive years. We feel confident that on May 1, 1909, this Calhoun Trophy Cup will have put on it, "Won by Class of 1910," and, in looking forward to this fact, we will look over our recent defeat.

M. J. H. Hendricks was called home on account of the death of his father. Our class extends its deepest sympathy to Mr. Hendricks in his hour of grief.

Mr. H. R. Clinkscales spent two weeks at his home in Blythewood on account of illness in the family.

The fathers of F. F. Parker and P. E. Lee visited these boys in barracks a few days ago.

The Juniors and Sophomores had a delightful little dance on the 23d. There were quite a number of beautiful young ladies present, and everyone enjoyed himself very much.

Mr. W. Allen spent two weeks at his home, where he was treated for appendicitis. Mr. Allen is now back with his class, and we hope he will soon be enjoying sound health again.

The members of our class likely to attend the Southern Student's Y.

M. C. A. and Bible study Conference at Asheville are: Summers, L. W.; Morgan, W. H.; Parker, F. F.; Byrd, N. E.; Johnston, H. S.; Lee, P. E.; Williams, T. D.; Marshall, W. J.; and Barnett, W. D.

This is the last issue of The Tiger for the session of 1907-08. I will take this opportunity for praising the managers of this paper for their efficient service, and for thanking them for the consideration they have shown me in my endeavors to write a few lines for each issue.

Every man of our class wishes all a happy and enjoyable vacation. We hope that, after having seen those little brown or blue eyed beauties, whose images has been in our minds so long, we will all return to Clemson next fall with the determination to do a hard and faithful year's work.

Freshman

As we near the end of the academic year, June 10th seems to us very much like the theorem of limits in geometry, we approach it nearer every day, but we never seem to get there. But there is this difference. Unlike the case of the limits, June 10th will be reached. And when we consider the amount of practical work that we have not done, and the examinations on the studies that we are not prepared on, the great day does not seem so far away, after all. And with most of us, it is a case of now or never for the Sophomore class.

Speaking of persistence, we are impressed with the fact that nowhere in our college life is this quality more valuable than in track athletics. Football calls for men of weight and unconquerable energy; baseball demands the man with the quick hand and eye and the sure, swift foot; but almost any type of man, speaking in a physical sense, can be of use in some department of track athletics, if he only has the will, the persistence, the perseverance, to go on running after he is seemingly beaten. If you can run or jump, go out on the field and practice running and jumping until your powers have reached their full development. The good work of Hanckel, Jacobs and Stevens on field, should have been much more generously supported. It is late in the day to think of "making track" any more this term; but in the long summer months that are before you, keep it constantly in mind that you are going to show them next year.

Hanckel, in the pole vault and the 200 yard hurdles; Jacobs in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes, and Stevens in the pole vault and the broad jump,—all of these will look after the honors of '11 in their respective lines, but there are many openings for the man with the "go."

Very little of interest to the members of our class has occurred within the last two weeks. When you don't hear anything about a certain group of college men for a certain length of time, it is not always an indication that nothing is happening. Very often this unnatural quiet signifies that someone is very busy.

SOCIETIES

The Columbian

Work in our Literary societies is fast drawing to a close. Only a few more weeks and we shall go out from our society halls and from this institution, some of us for the last time as students here. And as we look back over the past, we realize perhaps that we have not accomplished our full purpose, that we have not done our full duty in every respect. Yet, we feel that our meeting together from week to week as society workers has not been a failure, and that we have received training which will be of inestimable value to us in years to come. No memory of our college days will be more lasting than the memory of the pleasant associations that brought us together in one common cause—the betterment of ourselves and the upbuilding of our society. Our literary societies, little as one may think of it, are the standing by which our whole college is measured. It is here, as it were, in a potter's mould that the youth of our land are shaped and prepared for the battle of life. And here that the swords to be wielded by these hands are to be sharpened and tempered for the conflict. We have fought our battles together and whatever success, we have achieved, let it continue to be. Let the training that has had its growth in our literary societies, like a clear crystal stream, bear its course onward ever broadening and deepening into an immeasurable sea of usefulness, bearing upon its silvery crest and guiding thru its gentle waters our nation's ships of state.

We are closing one of the most successful years ever known in the history of our society and may those who take up the work of another year add still greater luster to the splendid record of the old Columbian.

The exercises of Friday evening were up to the usual standard. The declamations by Messrs. F. J. Crider, J. C. Carrothers, and B. H. Covington were well rendered, as well as the oration by Mr. J. H. Harvey. The subject for debate was whether or not the United States should maintain in the future a strict adherence to the Monroe Doctrine. The affirmative side of the question was discussed by Messrs. J. O. Bethea, R. D. Baxter and R. B. Carpenter; while the negative was ably championed by Messrs. A. C. Whittle, G. M. Barre and C. F. Middleton.

The Galkoun

The work in the society for the past few meetings has been on a steady incline. The members have realized that there are only a few more chances for them to do work. The debates lately have been unusually interesting. A great deal of interest has also been taken in the irregular debate.

The diplomas for the Seniors have come and are very handsome. The following are the Seniors who have completed their work:

J. C. Littlejohn, T. C. Heyward, W. M. Rosborough, J. W. Lewis, J. D. Graham, H. C. Welburn, S. H. Sherard, E. V. Garrett, W. H. Maynard, W. H. Rumff, J. H. Rhyne, O. Roper and J. Spratt.

On account of the fact that the Society appreciated the splendid way in which Mr. T. C. Heyward acquitted himself at Greenwood, the following resolutions were adopted by the Society congratulating him on his demeanor:

Whereas, the Society feels that Mr. Heyward realizes that the way in which he represented the student body at the South Carolina Oratorical Contest at Greenwood was appreciated by the Society, still we feel that we should express to him our appreciation. Therefore, be it resolved;

1st. That the Society feels honored in counting among its members one who is so worthy of praise.

2d. That, whereas, Mr. Heyward did not win a medal, still his deportment as an orator was excellent and deserves commendation.

3d. That these resolutions be recorded on the minute books and a copy be presented Mr. Heyward.

It is very encouraging indeed to see so many of the boys appreciating the opportunities and privileges of the summer Conference. Already about twelve or fifteen men have definitely decided to attend, and the prospects are for a delegation of twenty to twenty-five men. This will be as large a delegation as we had last year, with only about half the number of men in school to select from. This is very encouraging, for nothing is more significant of the firm basis on which the Association now stands, and nothing is more prophetic of a bright future than being able to send such a large delegation to Montreat this summer.

Another thing which is very gratifying to the Association is the fact that sixty-one Bible class leaders have been secured for next year. These are in two training classes, both being led by Mr. Legate. It is really a great privilege to be a Bible class leader and to be a member of one of these training classes. Here are learned some of the most valuable principles of teaching and of psychology—here you learn how to lead, not only a Bible class, but how to lead men in any undertaking. Since every college man expects to become a leader of men after he leaves college, the principles that he learns in this class and the experience he gets as a Bible class leader will be of incalculable value to him, it matters not what vocation he may follow.

The evangelical addresses given by Dr. Weatherford on April 25, 26 and 27 were perhaps the most powerful of their kind ever heard at Clemson. As a result of them 19 boys decided to live the christian life and dozens of others were strengthened in their christian faith. Since hearing Mr. Weatherford's addresses, the whole corps seems to be in a more buoyant spirit—the spirit that has been so instrumental in getting the 61 Bible class leaders and in securing such a large delegation to the summer Conference. This is the spirit that we need in college all the time, the spirit that we need to take with us into those exciting scenes and uncertain conflicts thru which life's journey will lead us.

In behalf of the Association the writer wishes to thank the ladies of the Hill for the delightful "At Homes" that they have given to the various Bible classes. These have proved veritable oases in the social life of many Clemson cadets, and all of them appreciate very highly these privileges of being entertained in the hospitable homes of the various members of the faculty. The social life of the boys at Clemson has been sadly neglected in the past, and the ladies who have shown such a kindly interest in the boys this year are to be highly commended.

Cadet Henry L. Rivers has been elected treasurer of the Association for the ensuing year. He takes the place of Cadet S. O. Kelly who left some time ago. Rivers is one of the most popular men in college, and the Association is to be congratulated on getting a man of sterling business ability and strong christian character for this important position.

On account of the departure of the "three hundred," some of the committees of the Association lost some of their members. The President of the Association has appointed men to fill all these vacancies, and the committees are already planning the work for next year.

Rev. K. G. Finlay of Columbia, preached to the cadets in chapel Sunday morning and talked to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening. Thru years of association with Clemson cadets, Mr. Finlay learned to know them as only a few ministers do know them; and he always brings to them an appropriate message. He is the friend of every Clemson cadet and every Clemson cadet is a friend to him.

The annual missionary collection was taken up on April 27 and amounted to $174.12. The collection last year amounted to $30, which shows that the increase this year is almost six hundred per cent.

With this issue of The Tiger, the writer makes his exit as reporter for the Y. M. C. A. It is perhaps customary with writers of my calibre to make excuses for mistakes they have made. Tho the excuses would doubtless be necessary, I shall deviate from the custom and omit them, as I think that they are never very effective and not very consoling. I trust my successor may profit by my mistakes, and that he may be a man with the interests of the Association at heart and thoroughly versed in all of its workings.

A WISE DISSERTATION ON THE APRIL FOOL AFFAIR AT CLEMSON.

The following is a clipping from The Battalion of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College:

SOMETHING LACKING.

"The Tiger of April 15 from Clemson college contains several articles on the recent April fool escapade because of which 306 students were dismissed. From these articles it seems that simply because 306 members of the Junior, Sophomore, Freshman and Preparatory classes decided to go to town and enjoy themselves quietly on the day when such acts should be licensed to some extent, the faculty decided to give them the maximum penalty and kick them out. And what is worse still the remaining students made no protest but calmly sat by and watched their classmates go home. "Our sincere good wishes go with the men who were dismissed," they say, but when it comes to doing anything to keep these men in school they are not there. It is indeed surprising, if not disgusting, to see a college with so little spirit among its members. A concerted action by the students for a reinstatement of their comrades would have the desired effect. That no such action was taken, shows the lack of a true American quality, grit and the presence of a spirit which prompted them to take no risks for themselves or their diplomas in order to better the condition of their unfortunate fellow-students; but fold their hands and say "Good bye, little classmates, we hate to see you go." Such a spirit is contemptible and those exhibiting it are hardly to be classed as true college men.

"That the action of the Faculty in giving the maximum penalty when so many of the students were concerned is wrong, no one will gainsay. From the articles in The Tiger it would seem that the men who were dismissed uttered no word of protest but advised the remaining men to stay for the sake of the college. Why should the students think more of the college than the members of the faculty who govern it? If this faculty had the good of the college at heart they would not have dismissed one half of the students for the trivial offense and injured it greatly, as they did.

It seems the "Pitchfork" senator might find good use for his effective weapon in stirring up a little activity and spirit among the students of his model (?) institution of learning.

We have heard much of grit, the true American quality, but The Battalion has the doubtful honor of first defining it as mob rule. College spirit also receives the same definition at its hands. College spirit has certainly sunk to the lowest ebb of degeneracy if students are so cowardly as to try to frighten those in authority into complying with their demands by threats of a mob. If that is the idea of college spirit at Texas A. & M., we sincerely hope that it will remain within its present restricted area, and that other colleges will steer clear of the contamination of anarchy. The Battalion is right in saying that the students of Clemson are not true college men, if skulking in the shelter of a crowd's cowardly demonstration is the requisite of true college manhood. There are other inconsequential statements made by The Battalion, but space is too valuable to waste in answering trivialities.

In the land of the prairie dog, the boll weevil, and the comic opera hero, those in authority, both in civil and college life, may be so weak and vacillating that their actions are controlled by the dictates of a mob, but in South Carolina, men are made of sterner stuff. Not only are college authorities firm in their determination to enforce discipline at all costs, but the students, when they are so indignant as to commit a serious breach of discipline, are men enough to acknowledge their wrong and to take their punishment in the same manly spirit. Furthermore, the men who were dismissed, although they were no longer students of the college, had the interests of the institution so much at heart that they did all in their power to persuade those who did not engage in the fool's day affair to remain at Clemson, and keep up the reputation of their college. Those who did not participate in the affair, did not remain because of craven self interest and fear of the loss of their diplomas, as The Battalion in its wisdom states; but because they had grit enough to waive all feelings of sympathy and sentimentality and do their duty by their families; their college, and their State.

CLEMSON COMES FOURTH IN STATE
ORATORICAL CONTEST.

On Friday evening April 24th, the tenth Oratorical Contest of South Carolina Colleges was held at Lander College Auditorium at Greenwood, S. C., resulting in Wofford College winning first place, Furman University second, The Citadel third, and Clemson fourth.

The exercises began promptly at 8 o'clock by the singing of a "Song of Welcome" by the Chorus Club of Lander College. This was followed by a beautiful prayer led by Rev. Robert Adams, president of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina. Then came the speakers, the following program being rendered:

"The Battle Against Ignorance"—J. C. Hardin of Wofford.

"The Handicaps of the South"—R. S. Owens of the Presbyterian College of S. C.

"The Spirit of the Age"—T. C. Heyward of Clemson.

"The Small College"—J. B. Brown of Charleston College.

"Christian Citizenship—The Hope of the Democracy"—B. E. Petrea of Newberry.

"In Defense of the Flag"—J. F. Norden of the Citadel.

"The American Shibboleth"—J. W. Hicks of Furman.

"The Menace of Mammon"—G. N. McCormick of Erskine.

"The South and Her Heroes"—R. E. Gonzales of The University of South Carolina.

At intervals, music was rendered by the Chorus Club and the faculty of Lander College. After the speeches, the judges—Hon. J. C. Otts of Gaffney; Rev. J. B. Green of Greenwood; and J. Philips Verner of Columbia—retired to make their decision; and the few minutes that they were out weighed heavily on the large crowd that had enjoyed the program; for all were anxious to hear the decision. Only a short time elapsed though before the judges returned and announced Wofford first, Furman second, with the other colleges following in the order named: The Citadel, Clemson, Presbyterian College of South Carolina, Newberry, University of South Carolina, Erskine, and Charleston College.

Then came a musical selection, ending the tenth Oratorical Contest of the Colleges of South Carolina.

Clemson was well represented in the contest by Mr. T. C. Heyward, of the Senior class, who won fourth place. He performed well the duty imposed upon him and by his masterly speech and superb delivery—won great honor not only for himself, but also for Clemson. His speech—"The Spirit of the Age" was excellent and he deserves great credit for its masterly thought and beautiful composition. His delivery was above reproach, and many thought that he should have had first place on it.

TIGERS DEFEAT GEORGIA TRACK TEAM

The Georgia track team reached here this afternoon for their annual meet with Clemson, and Georgia was completely snowed under by the Tigers, the final score being 77 to 31. Lipshultz, captain and star of the Georgia team, did not show up so well as he has done in previous meets. Arrendale did the best work for Georgia, winning two firsts, the high hurdles and pole vault.

Georgia won two firsts, tied for another, four seconds and tied one and three thirds.

For Clemson, Byrd was a particularly bright star, winning three firsts. He ran the 220-yard dash in 24 seconds, the 440-yard dash in 54 2-5 seconds, and came first in the broad jump with 19 feet 7 1-2 inches. Warren won the 100-yard dash in 10 1-5 seconds, the 220-yard hurdles in 28 2-5 seconds, and came second in the broad jump.

Fleming entered in the weight events and came first in each. Pridmore broke the Clemson track record for the mile, going the distance in 5 minutes and 3 seconds. Clemson has a well balanced team and expects to acquit herself creditably in the southern inter-collegiate meet to be held in Atlanta the latter part of this month.

The events with winners and time are as follows:

100 Yard Dash—Warren, Clemson, first, time 10 1-5 seconds; Lipshultz, Georgia, and Jacobs, Clemson, tied for second.

220-Yard Dash—Byrd, Clemson, first, time 24 seconds; Lipshultz, Georgia, second; Jacobs, Clemson, third.

120-Yard Hurdles—Arrendale, Georgia, first, time 16 3-5 seconds; Riser, Clemson, second; Harris, Clemson, third.

Half-mile Run—G. M. Barnett, Clemson, first, time 2 minutes and 15 seconds; W. A. Barnett, Clemson, second; Harris, Clemson, third.

220-Yard Hurdles—Warren, Clemson, first, time 28 2-5 seconds; Hanckel, Clemson, second; Truluck, Clemson, third.

One Mile Run—Pridmore, Clemson first, time 5 minutes and 3 seconds; Boykin, Clemson, second; Harris, Clemson, third.

440-Yard Dash—Byrd, Clemson, first, time 54 2-5 seconds; Lipshultz, Georgia, second; Salehor, Georgia, third.

16-Pound Shot Put—Fleming, Clemson, first, distance 35 feet 1 inch; Arrendale, Georgia, second; Souse, Georgia, third.

High Jump—Spratt, Clemson, and Smith, Georgia, tied for first place, distance 5 feet 4 inches; Truluck, Clemson, second.

Pole Vault—Arrendale, Georgia, first, distance 10 feet; Truluck, Clemson, second, Hanckel, and Stevens, Clemson, tied for third.

Broad Jump—Byrd, Clemson, first, distance 19 feet 7 1-2 inches; Warren, Clemson, second; Lipshultz, Georgia third.

16-Pound Hammer Throw—Fleming, Clemson, first, distance 114 feet 6 1-2 inches; Arrendale, Georgia, second; Truluck, Clemson, third.

One hundred and one American colleges have a holiday on Monday instead of Saturday. Their presidents enthusiastically approve of the change and believe that has largely done away with the use of Sunday for study.

THE MERRY WIDOW.

Its "The Merry Widow" this'
And "The Merry Widow" that:
Its "The Merry Widow" kiss,
And "The Merry Widow" hat.
Its "The Merry Widow" craze,
And "The Merry Widow" dance;
Its "The Merry Widow" plays,
And "The Merry Widow" glance.
Its "The Merry Widow" dinner,
And "The Merry Widow" waltz;
Its "The Merry Widow" sinner,
With "The Merry Widow" faults.
I've a "Merry Widow" wife
And a "Merry Widow" brat;
I've a Merry Widow" knife,
And a "Merry Widow" cat.
I've a "Merry Widow" auto car,
With a "Merry Widow" toot,
And a friend whose wife has sued him,
'Tis a "Merry Widow" suit.
And if I die tomorrow,
Why, let them play real loud,
"The Merry Widow" waltzy song
For "The Merry Widow" crowd.

"IN MEMORIUM"

At a meeting of the Junior class of Clemson Agricultural College on May 2, 1908, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased God in his providence to remove from our midst our beloved friend and classmate, Kenneth McLaurin, be it resolved:

1. That we, the members of the present Junior class do most keenly feel the loss.

2. That we extend to the bereaved family and relatives our tenderest love and sympathy in this hour of deep grief.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent the sorrowing family and to their county paper.

4. That a copy be published in the "Clemson College Chronicle" and "The Tiger."

NEWBERRY LOST TO CLEMSON—WOOD PITCHED STAR GAME, ALLOWING ONLY TWO HITS.

In the fastest game seen on the campus this season, Clemson walloped the team from Newberry while the band played, "Good Bye Dolly, I must leave you."

Wood did the twirling for us, while Monroe twirled for Newberry and hugged Kirby. The game follows in detail:

FIRST INNING.

Boozer went to first on first baseman error. Wessinger bunted out to first. Connelly failed to cover Boozer second. Fisher failed to center. Scoring out by Goodman to Coles. Hits 0, runs 1.

SECOND INNING.

Kirby flied to left. Connelly out by pitcher to first. Coles fanned. Hits 0, runs 0.

Ruff, J. flied to Lee in deep center. Lee made a spectacular, one-hand running stab. Black fanned. Ruff, W. out by Goodman to Coles. Hits 0, runs 1.—Newberry.

THIRD INNING.

Wood out short to first. Sherard fouled to first. Goodman out second to first.

Ulmer out second to first. He caused great merriment by falling. Monroe out short to first. Boozer out by pitcher to first.

FOURTH INNING.

Lee hit safe to left. Brown bunted, pitcher threw wild to first. Lee scored. Brown moved to second and Bissell singled. Brown thrown out at home, Bissell going to second. Kirby popped to second, Connelly popped to third. Hits 2, runs 1 to 1.

Wessinger out second to first. Fisher out Goodman to first. Scurry flied to Brown.

FIFTH INNING.

Coles popped to Lee. Sherard hit safe to left, Goodman fanned, Wood forced Sherard out at second. Ruff, J. out Goodman to Coles. Black lined to Coles. Ruff, W. walked and stole second. Ulmer fanned.

SIXTH INNING.

Lee walked and stole second. Brown bunted and beat it out.

Brown stole second, Lee scored on a passed ball. Bissell flied to second. Kirby knocked a long drive while center muffed, scoring Brown, going to second.

Connelly bunted to pitcher who star-gaze while Kirby scored in a mix up. Coles popped to third, Sherard fouled to catcher.

Monroe dropped to catcher, Boozer flied to Lee, Wessinger out by Coles.

SEVENTH INNING.

Goodman out short to first. Wood out second to first. Lee out short to first. Hits 0, runs 0.

Fisher out third to first. Scurry got to first on Coles error, stole second. Ruff, J. fanned. Black out pitcher to first. Hits 0, runs 0.

EIGHTH INNING.

Ruff, W. out Goodman to Coles. Ulmer walked and stole an easy second.

Monroe hit to wood and out at first, advancing Ulmer to third, Boozer hit safe to left scoring Ulmer. Wessinger out second to first. Hits 1, runs 1.

NINTH INNING.

Clemson started off well getting two men on bases, but in a punk mix-up, a bunt and poor base running they allowed an extremely slow double to mar their chances for a score. Hits 2, Runs 0.

Fisher pasted a ball over Brown's head for three bags and on a hard luck throw-in he scored. Scurry flied to Brown. Ruff, J. out Wood to Coles. Black out over Kirby-Coles route. Hits 1, Runs 1.

GEORGIA, CHAMPIONS OF THE SOUTH LAMBAST THE TIGERS.

(Special to Atlanta Journal.)

Athens, Ga., May 9.—Redfearn again pitched the University of Georgia team to victory Friday evening when Clemson was shut out by a score of 8 to 0.

Georgia played, almost errorless game and gave Redfearn magnificent support at all stages of the contest. Wood, who twirled for the South Carolinians, also pitched a good game. Redfearn at no time was in danger, and gave up only two hits, striking out fourteen men.

Georgia tallied first in the opening, when Derrick was safe on an error, stole second and third and scored on Watson's single.

Georgia scored one more in the seventh, and three in the eighth, when Cobb walked. Colby singled, Redfearn sacrificed and Martin cleared the bags with a triple to left. Martin scored on a squeeze play. Additional runs were made in the eighth, when on a base on ball's. Gglesby's hit, a double steal, Graves' single and a passed ball netted three tallies.

For Clemson, Bissell and Coles showed up nicely, while for the Red and Black, Graves, Derrick and Martin starred. Clemson made two fast doubles.

Score by innings:

Clemson	000 000 000—0
Georgia	000 000 00*—8

Summary—Three-base hit, Martin: struck out, by Redfearn 14, by Wood 2; bases on balls, off Redfearn 1, off Wood 5; double plays; Bissell unassisted, Graves to Hodgson to Colby. Umpire, Foster.

THE DOUBLE HEADER.

Georgia took both games of a double-header from Clemson Saturday by the shut-out scores of 6 to 0 and 7 to 0.

Clemson was completely at the mercy of the Red and Black in both contests, and the Georgia team put up magnificent exhibitions of fielding and batting. In the first game, the Athens aggregation scored in the opening inning, when Martin singled, stole second and tallied on error of Derrick's bunt. Derrick then scored on Stokes' wild throw of Watson's hit.

Georgia scored again in the third and seventh innings on fast work coupled with timely hits and errors. Graves' batting and fielding was a feature.

In the second game, the Red and Black scored four runs in the second inning on errors and timely hits, and in the fourth and seventh mainly on fielding errors.

Foley in this game put up a nice game and pulled himself out of holes a number of times. Cobb's batting was a feature.

Bissell put up a good game at third, and Farmer did some good work in the box for the visitors.

EDITORIAL

With this issue, "The Tiger's" career, under the auspices of the class of 1908, will end. We have always tried to make it worthy of the noble name that it bears, and if we have failed, we feel that no blame rests at our doors—we have done our best. There have been some dark periods in the history of the paper, when failure seemed inevitable, but thanks to the loyal support of the student body, the storms were safely weathered, and the brighter days that followed more than compensated for the brief periods of depression. In the name of the Senior class, we wish to thank the members of the under classes for the aid that they have given us in making "The Tiger" a success. We now turn "The Tiger" over to the class of 1909, feeling that we leave it in competent hands, and hoping that next year will be a banner year in the history of the publication.

Only a few more days now, and the industry and perseverance of four year's hard work will receive their reward. We shall leave forever our accustomed places in college life, and our work will fall upon the shoulders of others. The graduation exercises, the presentation of a diploma to each member of the Senior class, a few expressions of good wishes, and the stern issues of life are before us. Shall we be prepared to meet them? Have we taken advantages of our opportunities to store up knowledge to meet the crises of life? Let subsequent events decide these questions. If our diplomas are nothing more than sheepskin souvenirs, being false representatives of conscientious labor and attainment, the fault is our own, and we shall have wasted opportunities to blame for failure in our chosen professions.

During the past four years, we have lived together in close fellowship. We have labored together for the attainment of a common goal, and now, at the close of our college career, let us look back over the course that we have run and see what we find depicted there. Do we find that of which we should feel proud? We can truthfully say that we do. In athletics, in society work, and in class work, we find success on all sides. Everything that the class of 1908 has done has been done well. Under the influence of some of the members of the class, Christianity has made greater strides at Clemson than ever before. Success or failure now lies before us. We have made a success of college life, now why not make a greater success of our lives as citizens? It remains for the class of 1908 to show that the stern problems of life will be overcome by the same "never say die" spirit that characterized its members in every issue of college life.

While the baseball season has not been made up of a series of consistent successes, the team has maintained a good average. We have suffered some defeats, but we have the consciousness of knowing that we were beaten by foemen worthy of our steel. Always, opposing teams were given plucky fights, victory going to our opponents often by the merest chance. At the beginning of the season, there was a lack of team work on account of raw material, but later games proved the ability of the team to play together. Taken altogether, the season was fairly successful.

Clemson has cause to be proud of her track record this season. In the two meets of the season, with Georgia Tech. and University of Georgia, Clemson won easily. University of Georgia has long been considered the leader in track athletics in this section of the South, but the overwhelming defeat that she suffered at Clemson's hands points to a championship of the South by a college in which a track team is an innovation. Clemson's prospects are very bright for victory in the S. I. A. A. meet in Atlanta.

Locals

Mr. W. W. Houston, visited the music festival in Spartanburg, some days ago.

Professor F. H. H. Calhoun visited North Carolina recently on a business trip.

Miss Kate Crowther, of Abbeville, S. C. is the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. H. Clinkscales.

Miss Bug Norris, who for some time has been visiting on the campus, returned to her home in Greenville.

Mr. W. P. Sloan, of the class of '07, visited Clemson recently and while here attended the Senior-Junior dance.

For the first time in several years, strawberries were served to the cadets in the mess hall, some days ago.

Hon B. L. Caughman, of Columbia, S. C., visited his son, Cadet F. P. Caughman of the Senior class a few days ago.

Mr. Wilkes Webb, an old Clemson student, visited Clemson recently, and while here, attended the Senior-Junior dance.

Mr. B. B. Henry, representing the B. B. Henry Clothing Company of Spartanburg, visited the college recently on business.

The Seneca Professionals went down in defeat before the Clemson Cubs by a score of 14 to 2 on the afternoon of Friday, May 1.

In an interesting and fast game of baseball, the Cubs, defeated the Senior Class team by a score of 8 to 5 on the afternoon of Saturday, May 2.

Mr. W. W. Houston, our famous baritone attended and sang at the meeting of the women's clubs of South Carolina, in Greenville, S. C., several days ago.

After the defeat of the U. of Ga. by a score of 77 to 31 on the evening of Saturday, May 9th, Prof. F. H. H. Calhoun, our efficient track coach, gave the track team a delightful reception.

The Board of visitors appointed by the general assembly, had their regular annual meeting here on May 6. They commended the college in its good work, and speedy recovery from the April Fool incident.

Mr. H. P. Lykes, the unequalled end of "The Tigers" line up in the season '06-07 paid the college a visit recently, and while here witnessed the defeat of the crack track team of the U. of Ga. by the indefatigable Tigers.

Among Clemson's recent visitors are; Miss Willie Cherry of Seneca, Misses Mahon, Waddell, McAllister, Sellers, Bryan, and Couler of Greenville, Miss Hite of Pendleton, Miss Keith of Anderson, and Miss Herring of Central.

The oratorical contest has come and gone, and though our representative did not take the first honors, we have the satisfaction of knowing that he put up a good speech and reflected credit upon our institution. The best is all that is expected of anyone.

Mr. J. E. Lunn of Ebenezer, S. C., paid a visit to his brother, Capt. W. M. Lunn, recently. Mr. Lunn was for two years a member of the present Senior class, and his old classmates were glad to see and welcome him among them once more.

The college Glee Club, that will give a performance on Saturday evening before commencement has organized and are practicing their choruses every afternoon just after supper. From present prospects, it bids fair to be one of the best ever gotten up at Clemson.

The scrub games are all our way. The Pendleton High School boys were easy, and at the end of the 7th inning, the score stood 20 to 1 in favor of the "Cubs." The Pickens Professionals went down in defeat before our "Cubs" on Saturday, May 9 to the tune of 9 to 6.

Instead of the annual Junior Hop of April 30, the Senior and Junior Dancing Clubs combined and gave a delightful formal dance in the gymnasium dance hall. It was followed on the evening of May 1, by a subscription dance whose proceeds are for the benefit of the Commencement Hop. Both dances were well attended and enjoyed by all present.

The annual field day, May 1, had been looked forward to with much interest by all; and all the participants in the track performance of the forenoon made the occasion one of much interest to those present. No man was allowed to take part in more than two events, and in that way the all round athletes were forced to give up some of the medals of honor to those not so endowed. In addition to the regular track meet events, there were class relay races of half lap, one lap, and two laps. The class of "1908" was again the victor, and winner of the Calhoun Trophy Cup. The final score by classes was as follows; Seniors 47, Sophomores 36, Juniors 27, Freshmen, 13.

RECEPTION TO SENIORS.

On the evening of Thursday, May 14, Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Mell gave the entire Senior Class a delightful lawn party at their beautiful home on the campus. Beginning at 9 o'clock the merry making continued to the midnight hour.

The entire class was present, and were delightfully entertained by the charming hostess with the help of the young ladies of the campus, and numerous visitors.

Between the hours of ten and eleven delightful refreshments consisting of punch, cream and cake were served, and they were made even more delightful by the presence of many of the fairer sex, and the ideal weather that prevailed. Though this has been an annual occurrence, this one so far eclipsed anything that had gone before, it did not seem, as the hostess expressed it, as if she had ever given a real reception before. The decorations were simply gorgeous, and mixed with the bright but soft beams of brilliant moon, and with the universal feeling of good will and pleasure, the feeling produced over the hard worked cadets was in every way invigorating.

NEW BARRACKS FURNISHED FOR VISITORS

The new barracks has been put at the disposal of visitors during commencement week.

It is undergoing a thorough cleaning inside, and the rooms are being provided suitable for the accommodation of the visitors. The barracks will be so arranged that both ladies and men can secure rooms. All of the room furniture will be furnished by the college except bed clothes and towels which will be supplied by cadet friends of the visitors.

This arrangement is a great improvement over conditions in previous years. Formerly, many people did not attend the commencement exercises at Clemson on account of the inability of the hotels to accommodate them. Under the new conditions, however, there will be more visitors here than ever before. Over two hundred people can secure lodging in the new barracks, in addition to the hotels. It is natural to expect a marked increase in the number of visitors this year, because the present Senior class is the largest in Clemson's history.

VISIT OF BOARD OF VISITORS.

On Wednesday, May 6, the Board of Visitors, composed of one member of the general assembly from each congressional district, had their regular annual meeting at the college. After a careful investigation of every department of the institution, they adjourned with a common agreement that of all the well-equipped departments, the electrical-mechanical department was easily the best. Together they formed a report to be presented at the next session of the legislature, that is not to be disliked by the authorities at Clemson. The Board consists of the following gentlemen:

First District—Hon. Hugh Sinkler, Charleston.

Second District—Hon. G. L. Toole, Aiken.

Third District—Hon. Chas. H. Carpenter, Pickens.

Fourth District—Hon. Thos. P. Cothran, Greenville.

Fifth District—Hon. J. G. Richards, Jr., Liberty Hill.

Sixth District—Hon. R. P. Hamer, Hamer.

Seventh District—Hon. T. G. Fraser, Sumter.

SCRUBS BEAT SENECA.

In a fast game of baseball here on last Friday, the second team of Clemson walloped the fast Seneca bunch, while the band played Annie Laurie, to the tune of 14 to 2.

Wood did the slab work for the local aggregation and did it well, allowing only five hits during the entire game.

Sandifer did the receiving and starred. The lucky lobster would catch all kind of bouncers and would fairly fly in reaching for the high ones. Not that the pitcher was wild; far from it; but the miniature catcher-captain amused the spectators from beginning to end of the game.

The Seneca team has some mighty fine material, and could, with training and practice, be made into a fine team.

The Scrubs got 14 hits, one of which was a three-bagger that scored Farmer who was on first.

DELIGHTFUL AT HOME TO SENIOR AGRICULTURALS.

Professor and Mrs. Joseph N. Harper gave a delightful reception to the Agricultural Seniors from five to seven o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, May 15. The charming hostess received the guests at the door and conducted them into the parlor, where they spent a pleasant time chatting with the members of the fairer sex. Delightful refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by the young ladies present.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper have given receptions to Agricultural Seniors in years gone by, but this occasion was undoubtedly one of the most pleasant ever tendered to our appreciative body of cadets. Every Agricultural Senior was present and a very delightful afternoon was passed by all.

The following were among the ladies present: Misses Jean and Neila Sloan, Helen Bradford, Katherine Cox, Sue Sloan, Floride Calhoun, Margaret Sadler, Nannie Morrison, Margaret Morrison and Miss Gwyne.

KLYPT.

Cornell faculty has adopted a rule prohibiting summer baseball. Any man who plays under an assumed name, or takes part in a game at which an admission fee is charged is considered ineligible for college sports on the ground of having received compensation.

In the recent contest for the Rhodes scholarship from Tennessee, Bob Blake and Lex Stone of Vanderbilt and Sewanee gridiron fame respectively, were the leading candidates. After a very close contest, the judges decided in favor of Blake. If Blake's athletic record at Vanderbilt may be considered a criterion, the foot-ball and track teams at Oxford will get a good man.

WE LOSE TO WOFFORD.

Wofford defeated Clemson here on April 14, by a score of 6 to 4. It was a pitcher's battle with the Wofford man receiving the best support. Farmer pitched his usual good game, but his support at critical times was bad. In the sixth, after two men were out, Black knocked a two-bagger to right, then Johnson came up and slammed the ball to deep left for a home run. Smith was injured running to first in the seventh inning and had to retire in favor of Perrit.

Clemson made a rally in the ninth inning and came very near winning. Coles knocked to short and beat it out for a hit. Wylie hit to right for a single, Coles going to second, Stokes batted for Harris and knocked a hot one through short, Coles and Wylie scoring. Henderson grounded out to second, Lee got his base on balls, Brown flied out to first and Bissel, batting for Cochran, fouled out to catcher. Wofford left this afternoon after the game, for Atlanta, where she plays Tech.

Score by innings:

Clemson	101 000 002—4
Wofford	010 102 20*—5

Summary: Two-base hit, Black. Home run, Johnson. Sacrifice hits, Tolleson 2, Black, Walker, Brown. Struck out, by Smith 6, by Perrit 0, by Farmer 6. Bases on balls, off Smith 2, off Perrit 1, off Farmer 3. Hit by pitcher, Lipscomb, Perrit, Cochran, Kirby. Stolen bases, Raysor, Lee 2, Brown 2, Cochran 2, Harris. Double plays, Tolleson to Black, Wylie to Coles to Lee. Left on bases, Clemson 9; Wofford 3. Umpire, Bailey.

CHRONICLE FOR APRIL, A CREDITABLE MAGAZINE.

The April issue of The Clemson College Chronicle is one of the best numbers of the session. The contents are well balanced, showing careful selective faculties on the part of the editors. There is one defect that The Chronicle has, however, and that is a dearth of poetry. This is a fault common of all college magazines, and we would like to see college students take more interest in this branch of literature. Clemson is an institution where the practical side of life is emphasized to an unusual extent, and unless a student has an innate gift for poetry, his training here will never make him a poet.

Upon opening the magazine, the first thing to hold our attention is "The Choice of Ambition," a story of a cadet's love. The plot is well worked out, and the climax forcefully illustrates the folly of substituting riches for love. "Just Begun" is an excellent poem by Mr. C. P. Rice, who though a freshman, is our leading poetical genius. "Debate" presents a strong argument in favor of the election of U. S. senators directly by the people. Part II of "The Double Steal" confirms our favorable impression of the first part. "A Revolution," and "Love and War" are both meritorious stories. "Now" contains a beautiful sentiment, and it possesses considerable merit as a poem. "The Struggle for Commercial Supremacy in the Far East" is a good essay, showing deep thought and careful preparation on the part of its author. "A Night in Paris," has an exciting plot, and the tragic climax is well worked out. Though the theme of "In the Evening" is good, the use of too many high-sounding and artificial expressions detracts greatly from the force of the story. The editorial department contains some thoughtful editorials on subjects of current interest. The remaining departments are up to the usual standard.

SITTON BROTHERS STAR IN THRILLING MELODRAMA IN JACKSONVILLE.

The following is a clipping from the Florida Times Union:

The big attraction of the season is on for today and but one performance is to be given. The performance will begin at 3:30 o'clock promptly, and the bill to be presented will be that stirring melodrama, Brother Against Brother.

The cast which has been selected to present this well known piece is one of the all-star kind and one that would make good anywhere. Heading the extra large company of eighteen are the Sitton brothers, two great favorites of the spot light.

The Sitton boys, Vedder and Phil are both talented young actors. When in college their talents were first discovered, although they had already made good among the ranks of the amateurs. While in college, several of the leading managers of road companies kept their lamps on them, and they were destined some day to become favorites with the American public.

They have been appearing in separate companies the past few seasons, and, try as they did, it has always, until today, been impossible for the wise managers to get them to appear in the same bill. Heretofore they have made immense hits with the one-day stands, and it has been a well-known fact that were it possible to get them to appear in one big production the performance would be a winner in every respect.

It was left to Managers D. J. Mullaney and Charles Dexter, both well known performers, to get the stars together, and Jacksonville was, fortunately, selected as the place for the first performance. The piece in which they appear is full of pathos and thrilling situations. Some of the performers have not yet received their lines, but every member of the company is there with the ad lib. (if you don't understand that, consult with a member of the theatrical profession), and there are no reasons why the production should not prove the finest of its kind ever offered to the Jacksonville public.

The costuming of the piece will be in keeping with the other arrangements. Vedder Sitton, the elder of the boys, will be attired in a beautiful costume of white with black trimmings, while the younger member of the family will wear the blue. The bill is slated for nine acts and no changes in costume will be made. Vedder Sitton will represent a young hero who has been sent our into the wilderness by a great general (Mullaney) to win a battle. He will have but eight men with him. Phil Sitton will represent the other hero (from the Augusta standpoint), and it will be his business and duty to fight against his own dearly beloved brother.

Mr. Buckley of Rochester, N. Y., has been given a place in the cast, and promises to make good. The curtain will rise promptly at 3:30 o'clock, and it is believed that the S. R. O. sign will be displayed. The Sitton boys will positively appear today.

LECTURES ON EVOLUTION.

In addition to the regular course in Entomology, Professor Conradi is giving the Senior Agriculturals a very interesting and instructive course of lectures on the subject of evolution. The course in Zoology and Entomology does not embrace such subjects as evolution, reproduction, etc., and lectures along these lines open up hitherto unknown vistas of interest to those who stand upon the threshold of science, with only enough scientific knowledge to aid them in the comprehension of the deeper wonders of nature.

In these lectures, Professor Conradi traces the successive stages of life from the lowest animal, the amoeba, to the highest animal, man. He proves beyond a doubt the striking analogy between the structure of the cells of plants and all animal life, showing that there is absolutely no distinguishable difference between the cells composing a plant and those composing man. His lectures are from a purely scientific standpoint, ignoring altogether the popular misconception concerning evolution, e. g., the monkey to man theory. Professor Conradi's lectures are of great educational value, and the Seniors are indeed fortunate in having the privileges of hearing them.

Alma Mater." and the beautiful dedicatory tribute introduces the body of the book in very good style.

After a group picture of the staff, an artistic photograph, insert of a campus snow scene with the class poem, which is a prospectus of the class of 1908, serves to introduce the individual histories of the graduating class. These are written in a light, snappy style and are accompanied by the individual pictures. Following the individual histories is the history of the class. The next page is devoted to a memorial tribute to deceased classmates.

Histories and pictures of the lower classes follow. The history of the Junior Class being especially unique.

Another campus scene insert serves as a break between the classes and the college departments. A picture of Dr. Mell and memorial tribute to Prof. Brodie and Prof. Shiver precede the military department.

Athletics, societies, college publications, Y. M. C. A. miscellaneous and clubs make up the remainder of the annual. The advertisement department consists of twenty-four pages representing reputable firms. Manager Spratt has a few extra copies on hand and all who neglected to order an annual should call and get one.
