By GEORGE W. MCCOY
(Staff Correspondent)

RUTHERFORD, Sept. 10.—Rutherford county, like many other industrial centers, is benefited by the quickening of the economic pulse of the nation.

The industries of Rutherford county—and there are many of them here—have suffered along with others from the effects of the world-wide depression. A few weeks ago, hundreds and industrial leaders of this county would hardly have guessed as to a change for the better. This change in prospects has occurred since the beginning of August.

Making Study Of W. N. C. Conditions

George W. McCoy, Western Carolina News Editor, The Citizen and The Times, is making a study of the conditions of the 18 mountain counties. This is the fourth in a series of articles which Mr. McCoy will write during his tour. He plans to visit the counties of the region, confer with its news correspondents and industrial leaders as possible reasons for Mr. McCoy's survey of the mountain counties. He will also write and write about the business conditions and prospects. Mr. McCoy heads the Western Carolina News Department of The Citizen and The Times. The department comprises Mr. McCoy and an assistant editor in the office, and an efficient corps of more than 200 correspondents located in the various communities of Western North Carolina.

In the price of commodities, the most serious condition is the attitude of buyers have changed the complexion of the situation from a dark one to one that is at least somewhat lighter.

Industry in Rutherford county is being benefited in the textile and mill industry. Rutherford. While there is some unemployment, the situation is improved as a result of many of the mills going on full-time schedules.

Chicago Continues Search For Robins

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (UP)—Revelation that Colonel Raymond Robins was expected in Chicago early this morning has caused a search for his disappearance from New York to be continued. Chicago Secret Service agents have been ordered to continue their search for Robins.

The hunt was intensified by knowledge that two persons who knew Robins had reported seeing him within a half-hour period last Thursday at a block's distance on State street. Both were certain of their identification.

Hoover Asks Economy In Making Out Budgets

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10. (AP)—President Hoover today said he had asked the Budget Bureau to hold reserves for 1934 expenditures to be not more than $500,000,000 below those for 1933 and 1932.

He also directed the Budget Bureau to make a "revised study looking into the situation of several departments and agencies essential to these times."

"I have asked the director of the Budget Bureau to make a study of the government's activities are fixed by law" and independent agencies to make a study of their operations.

RAILROADS TO BE STAGED

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Calvin Coolidge and other prominent national leaders were reliably reported to be expected to be members of a non-partisan commission for the purpose of making a thorough study of the country's railroad problems, with a view of recommending remedial legislation at the next session of Congress.

RAILROADS TO BE STAGED

It was understood that neither Mr. Coolidge nor any of his proposed associates would be in a position to handle the railroad problems, with a view of recommending remedial legislation at the next session of Congress.

While the plans are understood to be in the final stages, it is reported that Mr. Coolidge had agreed to be a member of the commission, but that he would not be in a position to handle the railroad problems, with a view of recommending remedial legislation at the next session of Congress.
